In Norwich fifty years ago there was little that attracted more than a passing notice. The most notable event was the wedding of two sea-farers who had been given up as "lost at sea" and whose obituaries had been published. The two had simply extended their voyage and failed to notify friends in Norwich. The people of Preston City were considerably worked up over the school controversy regarding the attendance of scholars from other districts and a final resort took to legal proceedings.

Extracts from The Bulletin's files of "71 follow:
June 15, 1871.—Captain Frank Church and John Heyden, it was supposed, had been lost at sea in the sloop Red Wing, arrived with their vessel at this port on Saturday. They extended their voyage to Nantucket and there being no convenient means of telegraphic or postal communication with Norwich neglected to inform their friends of their change in plans. On hearing of the alarm which their protracted absence had caused they immediately returned home. They had a privilege which the most of men would be glad to have—that of reading their own obituaries.

Overcoats came into general use yesterday and first worky necessary in Norwich for about twenty minutes in a terrific shower doing untold damage to the tobacco crops there.

June 23, 1871.—A man employed in the suspender manufactory in Greenville, left the city late Saturday night to walk home. He had been drinking freely during the evening and being extremely intoxicated laid down by the roadside, and fell asleep. While quietly slumbering he was robbed of his coat, vest, one boot, watch and chain and $12 in money. He is inclined to favor the plan for establishing a police force in Greenville.

The Rev. Mr. Merziman left yesterday for Boston, and sails for Europe on the "Thetys" on Tuesday. Before he leaves he will leave for Europe this week. "Corner-loafing," with the use of abusive, indecent or insulting language, whether addressed to any person passing upon any highway, or to any other person or to no person in particular, has been made a statutory offense punishable by a fine not exceeding seven dollars.

June 21, 1871.—There is some trouble and considerable gnashing of teeth in the Preston school district over the question whether scholars from adjoining districts shall be permitted to enjoy the educational advantages of their school. Two or three meetings have already been held to decide the question but without satisfactory result to a majority of residents of the district, consequently parties have resorted to legal proceedings. Yesterday Judge Park issued an injunction restraining William D. Howie, James H. Pitch and George Marion the district committee from allowing outsiders to visit the Preston City district for the purpose of receiving instruction under penalty of $500.

A lad named Shea, with a companion, while rowing in the harbor Tuesday, was capsized in the middle of the river. Both clung to the boat and succeeded in reaching shore where they were welcomed by the paternal Shea. If there be any truth in Solomon's observation about the rod, young Mr. Shea isn't spoiled.

June 23, 1871.—The City of Boston—her passengers having been transferred to the City of Lawrence Tuesday night—made the trip with her freight to New London where she was laid up for repairs. She was damaged slightly by the fire on Tuesday which, it is supposed, originated in the spontaneous combustion of cotton waste in her crank pit.

An inexperienced Norwich man brought home 50 crabs yesterday but damaged his reputation for veracity by innocently saying that he caught them with a hoe and line.

River street in Preston which follows the winding of the sea in the direction of being regressed and Elm street is being rescued from the barbarism by the application of cement sidewalks.

June 24, 1871.—At a meeting of Palmyra Encampment, No. 3, I. O. O. F., held last evening the following officers were elected: P. W. Bruce, P. W.; William H. Andrews, H. P.; William W. Higgins, S. W.; James W. Andrews, J. W.; E. Spalding, J. H. H. Roath, A. T.

During a fight on a vessel lying at the coal wharf late Wednesday night a Portuguese named Manuel was stabbed. Medical assistance was procured in this city and Manuel declined to make a complaint.

The marriage of Miss Emma Forrester of this city and E. J. Wells of New York was solemnized in the Episcopal Cathedral church yesterday by Rev. Mr. Dana, assisted by Rev. Mr. Koerner. The happy couple left in the afternoon for Providence and after the honeymoon will pass several months in Europe.

A band of strolling musicians who appeared extremely dirty and with all peculiarly comfortable came into town yesterday. Also a hand-organ with male accompaniment; also a masochist with male alto; also an intoxicated but repentant violinist. It was hard to preserve an approving conscience yesterday though it was a good day for music.

June 24, 1871.—At the semi-annual meeting of Sedgewick post, No. 1, G. A. R., held last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months:

Commander, R. H. Knapp; senior vice commander, H. M. Darby; junior vice commander, J. W. Baird; adjutant, J. E. Jewett; sergeant, Charles M. Cott; surgeon, H. M. Bishop; chaplain, Ellen N. Perry; p. o. d. H. C. Irish; e. r. Charles H. Cobb; sergeant major, George C. Setchell; g. m. sergeant, Edward Cary.

The latest type of fireworks toy, which is sold with other harmless pyrotechnics is said to be an excellent thing to have in a family where there is a superfluity of children. It is a white torpedo of just the size and appearance of a nice little bon-bon. The child thinks it candy, claps it into his mouth and bang-off goes his head. It is ingenious invention a great improvement on the old system of hazy-cutters, circular saws and kerosene lamps and must become popular.

DRESSMAKER MADE WELL

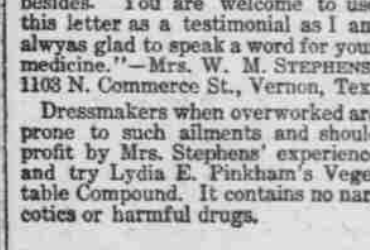

Followed a Neighbor's Advice and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vernon, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my sides. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. M. STEPHENS, 1103 N. Commerce St., Vernon, Tex.

Dressmakers when overworked are prone to such ailments and should profit by Mrs. Stephens' experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

PHONE INQUIRIES MANY ABOUT THE BOAT RACE

The Bulletin office phones put in a busy day on Friday, many hundreds of inquiries being received about the boat race. Calls came from surrounding towns of Danielson, Putnam, Williamsville, Jewett City, Moosup and Westerly. One man was kept busy answering calls practically all day long and until late in the evening.

The prize question of the day was asked shortly after the variety race. The telephone rang and a feminine voice inquired, "Who won the boat race?"

The man at the telephone answered, "By a half boat length." "What?" "What is the score of the boat race?"

Then came the astonishing question, "Who did they race?"

Another person from one of the country towns called a little later and inquired, "What is the score of the boat race?"

It was amusing to hear the "Ahs and Ohs" and "Is that so?" and "Isn't that just glorious?" and from those who favored Harvard. "My, isn't that a shame?" and "That's too bad. I thought Harvard would win." Of course the man answering the call always agreed with the inquirer whether he thought as they did or not.

Death of Miss Gertrude V. Henri
Miss Gertrude V. Henri of Bridgeport died in this city on last Saturday and burial took place in Bridgeport on Monday. She had been ill for about nine months. She was born in Middletown on January 1, 1860, the daughter of Amer Henri and Mary Degan Henri. She had been employed in Bridgeport as a clerk.
